Mission

Kintsugi's mission is to provide a space to celebrate LHS creatives-writers, artists, and photographers. Our literary magazine is for students, by students.

Goals

Our club goals are to create a space for Liberty creatives to champion the creative work of LHS students.

Community Service

We are currently exploring options for a community service component to our club.

Planned Activities

Kintsugi produces two digital literary magazines per year (once per semester). We feature student created work such as short stories, poetry, creative non-fiction, photography, drawing/painting, and art created digitally.

Membership

Students interested in Kintsugi can fill out a staff application form found at: lhscreate.lps53.org. If you're a writer, photographer, or artist, we would love to see your work featured in Kintsugi! If you are a student leader with a heart for the arts, please join us to help spread the word about this awesome opportunity!

Limit: We currently do not have a membership limit but may in the future.
