We’re going to hunker down for the winter in our warm school and slide right back in to cool crafts, winter science experiments, a looming bracelet club, dodge ball Friday, reading for hot cocoa, and our 2nd annual reading contest. READING FOR HOT COCOA/CONTEST

We actually started this in November. (a little earlier than last year) The kiddos were so anxious and excited to get a head start! Each week upon reading their required minutes they get to enjoy a cup of hot cocoa on Friday.

For the contest, there is running total of minutes read all the way to May. Two weeks before school lets out there will be a winner picked from each grade. Those winners will get to choose from a variety of pictures of cute cuddly farm animals that were painted by our own Ms. Tami!
